This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. INTRODUCTION.

THIS WORK has been undertaken for the purpose of satisfying the very general desire expressed by my professional friends to be supplied with a simple Catalogue of the Judges of the land, and of their station and succession in the different Courts of Westminster Hall, thus relieving them, in their forensic preparations, from the necessity of resorting to voluminous reports, and of searching, in works not easily accessible, for the precise period of the authority they wish to cite, the Court in which the judgment was pronounced, and the actual members who then sat on its Bench.

It commences with an Alphabetical List of all the Equity and Common Law Judges, from the time of the Conquest to the present date; with the reigns in which they flourished, and the different Courts in which they at any time sat.

Then follow Tables of these Courts in each successive reign, with their respective staffs during every year, and almost every day, of its continuance; so that the precise position of each Judge may be seen in the several reigns and Courts attached to his name in the alphabetical list.

Previous to the final division of the Courts of King's Bench, Common Pleas, and Exchequer, which was not completely effected till the reign of Edward I., no satisfactory arrangement of them could be adopted. The earlier Common Law Judges have been therefore denominated simply 'Justiciers,' and are not included in any of the tables; but from the reign of Edward I. there is a regular succession of tables for all the Courts.

Digitized by Google

The Justices Itinerant, and of Trailbaston, could not, of course, be inserted in any of the tables; but their names are given in the list, and their lives have been added to the others recorded in 'The Judges of England.'

The date of the commencement and termination of the reign of each sovereign immediately follow his name; and to all the judicial changes I have prefixed the regnal year.

The names of the Attorney and Solicitor-Generals, from the time of the institution of those offices, will, I anticipate, be acceptable to the Profession; as will also the list which I have appended of the Judges whose Reports have been published.

With the hope that this compilation (which is principally extracted from my larger work) may be serviceable to both legal practitioners and students, and not wholly useless to the antiquary and historian, I consign it to that fate which it may be found to deserve.

EDWARD FOSS.

CHURCHILL HOUSE, DOVER:
January 1865.

ALPHABETICAL LIST

OF THE

JUDGES OF ENGLAND

FROM 1066 TO 1864.

DISTINGUISHING THE REIGNS IN WHICH THEY FLOURISHED,

AND THE COURTS IN WHICH THEY SAT.

 The names of the Judges included in the Tables of the different Courts of Chancery and Common Law are printed in SMALL CAPITALS.

Those printed in common letter are either supposed Chancellors, Justiciers before the complete division of the Courts, Justices of Assize, Justices Itinerant, or Justices of Trailbaston.

William I.

December 25, 1066—September 9, 1087. 20 years, 8 months, 15 days.

A.R.	A.D.	Chancellors.	Chief Justiciaries.
1	1067		Odo, Bishop of Bayeux and Earl of Kent, and William Fitz-Osberne, Earl of Hereford.
2	1068	Arfastus, made Bishop of Helmham, 1070.
4	1070	Osbert, or Osbern, made Bishop of Exeter, 1074.
7	1073		William de Warrenne, and Richard Fitz-Gilbert.
8	1074	Osmund, made Bishop of Salisbury, 1078.
12	1078	Maurice, made Bishop of London, 1083 or 1085.	Lanfranc, Archbishop of Canterbury. Geoffrey, Bishop of Coutance, and Robert, Earl of Moreton.
17	1083	William Welson, made Bishop of Thetford, 1085.
20	1086	William Giffard, made Bishop of Winchester, 1100.

Two other chancellors have been erroneously introduced, viz.:—

Galdric (miscalled Baldric); a chancellor in the next reign; and

Herman, Bishop of Sherborne; for whom there is no sufficient authority.

William II.

September 26, 1087—August 2, 1100. 12 years, 10 months, 7 days.

A.R.	A.D.	Chancellors.	Chief Justiciaries.
1	1087. Sept 26.	William Giffard, continued	Odo, Bishop of Bayeux and Earl of Kent.
	1088.	—	William de Carilefo, Bishop of Durham.
3	1090. July.	Robert Bloet, made Bishop of Lincoln, 1093.
6	1093.	Galdric
		? Drogo, Keeper
7	1094.	William Giffard, again
	?	—	Ranulph Flambard, afterwards Bishop of Durham.

Ranulph Flambard has also been named as a chancellor, but without sufficient authority.

Henry I.

August 5, 1100—December 1, 1135. 35 years, 3 months, 27 days.

A R.	A.D.	Chancellors.	Chief Justiciaries, or Justiciaries. The latter marked ?
1	1100. Aug. 5.	William Giffard, afterwards Bishop of Winchester	Robert Bloet, Bishop of Lincoln.
2	1101. Sept.	Roger, afterwards Bishop of Salisbury
3	1103. March.	William Giffard again
4	1104. Jan.	Waldric
8	1107–8.	Ranulph, ob. 1123	Roger, Bishop of Salisbury.
			? Geoffrey Ridel.
24	1124.	Geoffrey Rufus, afterwards Bishop of Durham	? Ralph Basset.
			? Richard Basset.
			? Geoffrey de Clinton.
			? Alberic de Vere.

The above Waldric is supposed to be the chancellor of William II., called Galdric, and to have been erroneously called Walter in two charters of this reign dated in 1106.

The names of the following persons have been inserted in some Lists of Chancellors, but are omitted here for the reasons I have adduced in 'The Judges of England,' vol. i. pp. 80, 81.

Godfrey, Bishop of Bath; really chancellor to the Queen;

Herbert;

Reginald;

Thomas, by a charter, which is found to belong to the reign of Henry II.;—and

Richard the Chaplain.

Among the Justiciaries named in this reign is

Hugh de Bocland; but he seems only to have been sheriff of Hertfordshire.

Stephen.

December 26, 1135—October 25, 1154. 18 years, 10 months.

A.R.	A.D.	Chancellors.	Chief Justiciaries, or Justiciaries. The latter marked ?
1	1135	Roger Pauper	Roger, Bishop of Salisbury.
4	1139	Philip
	?	Robert de Gant
18	1153. Nov.		Henry, Duke of Normandy.
			? Richard de Luci.

I must again refer to 'The Judges of England,' vol. i. p. 144, for the reasons for omitting the names of the three following persons, who have been included in former Lists of Chancellors.

Roger, Bishop of Salisbury;

Alexander, Bishop of Lincoln;—and

Reginald, or Reinold, Abbot of Walden.

During the temporary sovereignty of the Empress Maud, two of her chancellors are named; viz.

Theobald, Archbishop of Canterbury, and William Fitz-Gilbert.

Henry II.

December 19, 1154—July 6, 1189. 34 years, 6 months, 18 days.

A.R.	A.D.	Chancellors.	Chief Justiciaries.
1	1154. Dec.	Thomas Becket, afterwards Archbishop of Canterbury	Robert de Beaumont, Earl of Leicester, and Richard de Luci.
8	1162	Resigned
13	1167		Richard de Luci alone.
19	1173	Ralph de Warneville
25	1179		Richard Tocliffe, Bishop of Winchester. Geoffrey Ridel, Bishop of Ely, and John of Oxford, Bishop of Norwich.
26	1180		Ranulph de Glanville.
27	1181	Geoffrey Plantagenet, Bishop of Lincoln, and afterwards Archbishop of York

For nearly eleven years from 1162 to 1173 no chancellor can be with certainty placed.

Four other chancellors are introduced into some lists. I have omitted them for the reasons given in 'The Judges of England,' vol. i. pp. 165, 166. They are

John;

Walter de Constantiis, Archdeacon of Oxford, and afterwards Bishop of Lincoln and Archbishop of Rouen; who seems to have acted only as deputy of Ralph de Warneville;

Walter de Bidun, Chancellor of Scotland; and Nigel, Bishop of Ely.

Justiciers and Justices Itinerant were very numerous in this reign.

The appointment of a keeper of the seal—custos sigilli—instead of a chancellor, was now introduced.

During the occasional absences of the chancellors and keepers, the seal was sometimes placed in the temporary custody of the keepers of the wardrobe or officers of the household, whose names it has not been deemed necessary to insert.

The division of the courts commenced in this reign, but was not definitely established till near the end of it; nor then with such sufficient distinctness as to enable lists to be prepared appropriating the judges to their different courts; but after this reign the judges of the Courts of Equity, King's Bench, Common Pleas, and Exchequer, will be placed in separate tables.

In this reign the first instance occurs of an advocate being regularly employed in the king's affairs.

Lawrence del Brok is recorded as pleading for the king, 'sequitur pro rege,' for fourteen years from 1253 to 1267; when he was made a justicier.

John de Lythegrenes is also mentioned in the same manner in Northumberland.

Justices of Trailbaston, in addition to the Justices Itinerant, were appointed from the latter end of this reign till the middle of that of Richard II., after which no further commissions were issued.

Attornati Regis.

The advocates employed by the king were sometimes designated by this title; but the more ordinary mode of description was 'Qui sequitur pro rege,' or 'Narratores pro rege.' There were often two acting at the same time, probably answering to the attorney- and solicitor-general of the present day; but the latter title does not appear to have been adopted till the reign of Edward IV. The following are named:—

VI.	1277–8.	William Boneville, in Essex.
VII.	1278–9.	William de Giselham.
VIII.	1279–80.	Gilbert de Thornton, acting with W. de Giselham.
IX.	1280–1.	Alan de Walkingham, in Yorkshire.
X.	1281–2.	John le Falconer.
XIII.	1284–5.	William de Seleby, in Warwickshire.
XV.	1286–7.	William Inge.
XVIII.	1289–90.	John de Bosco, in Norfolk.
		Nicholas de Warwick.
		John de Haydell.
XX.	1291–2.	Richard de Breteville.
		Hugh de Louther, in Salop.
XXI.	1292–3.	Roger de Hegham.
XXII.	1293–4.	John de Mutford.
XXIX.	1300–1.	John de Chester.
XXXIII.	1304–5.	? John de Drokenesford.

Edward III.

January 25, 1327—June 21, 1377. 50 years, 4 months, 27 days.

Attornati Regis.

I. 1327.	Adam de Fyncham, in K. B.
	Alexander de Hadenham, in C. P.
	William de Merahton, in C. P.
III. 1329.	Richard de Aldeburgh.
VIII. 1334.	Simon de Trewythosa.
	William de Hepton, or Hopton, in K. B.
XII. 1338.	John de Lincoln, in K. B., and in 1343.
	John de Clone, or Clove, in C. P. and in 1339 and 1343.
	William de Merington.
XVI. 1342.	William de Thorpe.
XXIII. 1349.	Simon de Kegworth, in K. B.
XXVII. 1353.	? Henry de Greystoke.
XXX. 1356.	John Gaunt, in C. P.
XXXIV. 1360.	Richard de Friseby.
XXXVI. 1362.	William de Pleste, in K. B.
XXXVII. 1363.	William de Nessefield.
XL. 1366.	Thomas de Shardelow,	also in 1370.
XLI. 1367.	John de Ashwell,	also in 1370.
	Michael Skylling, in C. P.	also in 1370.

The King, it seems, had two advocates, one for the King's Bench, and one for the Common Pleas. Some of them were serjeants.

The pleadings in the Courts had been hitherto in French; but by stat. 36 Edw. III. (1362) c. 15, they were ordered to be debated and adjudged in English, but entered and enrolled in Latin.

This reign affords the only instance of TWO CHANCELLORS holding the office separately at the same time. They were Bishops Rotheram and Alcock, from April 27 to September 28, 1475. The facts proving these appointments, and the circumstance that occasioned them are detailed in "The Judges of England," vol. iv. pp. 383–5.

Attorney-Generals.

I. 1461.	August 12.	John Herbert.
		Henry Hesill.
XI. 1471.	June 16.	William Huse.
XVII. 1478.		William Huddersfield.

Solicitor-Generals.

This officer had no existence previous to this reign; the king's attorney being only named in all the earlier proceedings in Parliament, while subsequently to this period the king's solicitor is also introduced. The great increase of business in the Courts of Chancery and Exchequer probably rendered the appointment necessary.

Eight days after the accession of Edward IV.

I. 1461.	March 12.	Richard Fowler was appointed to be 'King's solicitor in all places within the kingdom quamdiu se bene gesserit.'
IX. 1470.	June 31.	Richard Page.

The salary was £10 a-year.

Edward V.

April 9 to June 25, 1483. 2 months and 16 days.

During this short period there was little change in the courts.

THOMAS ROTHERAM, Archbishop of York, was continued chancellor for the first few weeks of the reign; and was then succeeded by JOHN RUSSELL, Bishop of Lincoln, who retained it till Richard III. usurped the throne.

ROBERT MORTON remained Master of the Rolls for the short continuance of the reign.

In the Common Law Courts no change is recorded, except that HUMPHREY STARKEY was appointed Chief Baron of the Exchequer, on the death of Sir William Nottingham, just ten days before the king was dethroned.

William Huddersfield remained attorney-general for the first six weeks of the reign, and then Morgan Kydwelly was appointed on May 28.

In 1579 John Shuté, already a serjeant, was made a Baron of the Exchequer, with the same rank as the puisne judges of the other courts. The barons of that court had previously been of a lower grade; but thenceforward they had the same privileges and duties as the other judges.

Cursitor Barons.

July 8, 1606, Nowell Sotherton; May 26, 1610, Thomas Cæsar; Oct. 24, 1610, John Sotherton (2).

The name of Cursitor Baron, as a distinct officer, first occurs in this reign. At the death of John Sotherton (1) all the remaining barons had been previously serjeants, and were denominated "Barons of the Coif." To those only of that degree was the judicial business of the court in future entrusted. But as they were ignorant of the formal duties in reference to the revenue, which had been previously performed by all the old Barons of the Exchequer, a new officer, conversant with the routine, but of secondary rank, was appointed, whose duties being to audit the sheriffs' accounts and to attend to other matters of course, received the name of Cursitor Baron.

In the reign of William IV. many of these duties were transferred to the commissioners for auditing the public accounts; and in the reign of Victoria, the office, having become almost a sinecure, was abolished.

The names of the Cursitor Barons will be added at the foot of the tables of the Court of Exchequer.

Charles II.

January 30, 1649—February 6, 1685. 36 years and 7 days.

The above is the length of Charles's nominal reign, but the eleven years, three months, and twenty-nine days, during which the Interregnum lasted, being deducted, his actual reign was reduced to twenty-four years, eight months, and eight days.

The years of his reign were however calculated as if there had been no interruption; his restoration and his first official and legislative acts being dated as of the twelfth year of the king.

George III.

October 25, 1760—January 29, 1820. 59 years, 3 months, 4 days.

During the last nine years of this reign a Regency became necessary, and from February 5, 1811, George, Prince of Wales (afterwards George IV.) exercised the royal functions as Regent till his father's death.

The Union of Ireland with Great Britain, with one Parliament, was effected on January 1, 1801.

The title of Lord Keeper was entirely disused during the whole of this reign; and it has never since been revived.

An additional Judge in the Court of Chancery was appointed on April 14, 1813, by statute 53 Geo. III. c. 24, under the title of Vice-Chancellor of England.
